

Seesaw Guidelines

Respect Creativity Excellence Resilience

Rationale: Seesaw is a multi-modal tool that supports communication from school to home and allows parents and carers an insight into their child's learning journey at school. Seesaw gives students creative tools to capture and reflect on their learning in real time. Seesaw can also be used for the class teacher to communicate to families and share school happenings.

Aim: To engage families in their child's learning through the Seesaw platform therefore, creating dialogue within the child's home environment about learning tasks, group activities and community initiatives. To create a triangle of communication between parents, teachers and students. To engage our students in the respectful, safe and creative use of digital devices.

Students may add posts to their journals. Students' posts showcase their learning in digital portfolios which could include photos, artwork, videos, activities, notes and projects etc. Teachers gain insights to understand student thinking and progress. Families get notified when there are new posts in their child/ren's journal from their mobile device or computer. They can view posts and add comments.

Seesaw requires an invitation link from the child's teacher in order to sign up. If the parent does not have an invite QR code link, they should contact their child/ren's teacher.

The Family App gives parents a view of what their child is working on in class. In order to complete activities and post student work at home, students need to log into the Class App. For further support in using Seesaw at home please visit: Families: Get Started on Seesaw! — Seesaw Help Center
